Supply Ship Razes Hangar for Big Balloon and Prepares to Desert Base at Spitzbergen.

CRASH OF SHIP IS FIRM BELIEF

Many Expeditions of Rescue Make Final Plans for Thorough Search of Arctic Land and Sky.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 1.—(AP)—That the dirigible Italia, missing since the last expedition, crashed in the north part of this island, has become an almost firm belief among the members of the expedition who were left at the base here.

Basing their calculations on the known wind direction the morning of May 25, when the last radio message came from the dirigible, they figure that she went down between Wood bay and Wjide fjord in the neighborhood of the entrance to Hopen strait. The calculation placed the catastrophe as happening not farther north than between 70 and 80 degrees and not further east than 18 degrees.

(Hopen strait divides the island of West Spitzbergen from Northeast land. The coast of the latter has frequently been mentioned by experts as a probable place for the landing of the Italia.)

Skiers to Start Soon

The Italian alpine troops, who were left here on the base ship Citta di Milano, are so convinced that the crew of the Italia may be found living or dead in the area described, that they are eager to start a ski expedition early next week. They recognize that the route, difficult and dangerous at all times, has been rendered more so by the spring sunshine which has begun to melt the snow on the glaciers and open up deep chasms.

If the expedition is organized it will consist of seven or eight alpinists led by a Kings Bay guide. It will be distinct from the expedition of four alpinists with a Norwegian hunter as guide, which already has gone north to visit the hunter havens along the coast.

The proposed ski expedition would take them to the last three miles of the coast where they also propose to have a dog team, guns, axes and medical supplies. Commandant Romagna, in command of the Citta di Milano, is not enthusiastic about the project, but Captain Sora, of the alpinists, is eager to lead the attempt.

ROOSEVELT FINED $25 FOR SPEEDING ON LONG ISLAND

Long Island City, N. Y., June 1.—(United Press.)—Roosevelt was fined $25 for speeding today despite the fact that he was driving a "great admirer" of Roosevelt's father.

Roosevelt waited three hours in the courtroom before his case was called. A motorcycle policeman testified that he had driven at a speed of 38 miles an hour on Memorial day.

"I am sorry to greet you in this manner," the magistrate said. "I suppose if I give you a suspended sentence I will be riden to death in the newspapers. You know, I was always a great admirer of your father."

Roosevelt said he did not believe he was exceeding the speed limit but told the magistrate to "use your own discretion."

"Very well," was the reply. "I fine you $25."

STEWART'S TRIAL FOR OIL SILENCE NEARS ITS CLOSE

All Major Witnesses for Prosecution Have Finished—Defense Says Reporters Outlined Queries

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—Thirteen witnesses paraded across the witness stand today to practically conclude the government's case in the trial of Robert W. Stewart on charges of having refused to answer questions asked him February 2 and 3 regarding the Continental Trading company oil deal by members of the senate oil committee.

Besides the testimony of witnesses, including that of Senators Nye, republican, North Dakota, and Walsh, democrat, Montana, chairman and prosecutor, respectively, of the senate investigating committee, the government introduced, over defense objections, a batch of documents in an attempt to build up their contention that the questions asked Stewart were pertinent to the oil inquiry.

Only the offering of a few more documents remained to complete the government presentation when court adjourned until Monday. After these are offered the defense will call the first of its six witnesses, including two newspapermen, through whom it expects to show that they, not the members of the committee, prompted the questions put to the Indiana Standard Oil company official.

Justice Frederick L. Siddons, presiding, asked both Senators Nye and Walsh before they were excused whether the oil committee was in "plenary" or regular session when Stewart was before it. He previously had said that he probably would have to rule on the pertinency of the questions asked the official.

Nye and Walsh testified that to the

DRY AGENTS MAKE 850-GALLON HAUL

John Henry Hardin and Lawrence Hardin, of Canton, Are Arrested Following Big Seizure.

Seizure of 850 gallons of whiskey near Canton, in Cherokee county, the largest haul made by federal prohibition agents in some time, was announced Friday by Howard P. Wright, deputy administrator for north Georgia.

John Henry Hardin and Lawrence Hardin, of Canton, were arrested and turned over to state officers for prosecution, according to the report to Mr. Wright.

The prohibition agents reported that the whiskey was found buried in 18 60-gallon barrels under the floor of John Henry Hardin's store and mill. The whiskey was valued by federal officers at $3,000.

Other confiscations reported Friday included 80 gallons of beer in an incomplete still three miles southwest of Dawsonville, a 60-gallon copper still and 2,500 gallons of beer, four miles south of Dawsonville, and an 150-gallon copper still and 150 gallons of beer, seven miles southwest of Fairburn.

C. S. Wharton, Former Congressman and Assistant State's Attorney, Indicted for $133,000 Job.

EVIDENCE SHOWS HE KNEW PLOT

Confessions of Gunmen Implicate Bar Leader Said To Have Been Paid in Advance.

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Charles S. Wharton, former congressman and former assistant state's attorney, and six others were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of robbery of the United States mails and conspiracy to rob in connection with the $133,000 mail train robbery at Evergreen Park last February 25.

The indictment charged that the actual participants in the robbery had gone to Wharton's home in his absence, divided the loot there and left $14,000 for the Chicago criminal lawyer, presumably as a legal fee should they be caught.

Among those indicted with Wharton were Charles "Lumpy" Cleaver, alleged head of the band; William Donovan, Frank Meica, Lawrence O'Brien, Virgil Litsinger and John Flannery. Litsinger, nephew of a Chicago politician, and Flannery, pal of "Midget" Ferenek, notorious gunman now in Joliet penitentiary, still are at large.

Wharton's bonds were placed at $100,000 and those of the others at $100,000 each. Wharton's home in Beverly Hills was searched immediately after the robbery. Government agents said they found locks "cut" and some of the mail pouches in a "secret" vacant lot. Federal agents said they had tapped telephone wires and listened to a conversation in which Cleaver told a man that Wharton's home was where the loot left for Wharton could be found. About one-third of the loot has been recovered.

While Wharton is also named as an actual participant in the robbery, federal officials said they expected to convict him for conspiracy, which carries a maximum sentence of two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. O'Brien and Donovan are reported to have made confessions implicating Wharton.

The indictment charges that Cleaver and Donovan procured money guns in the robbery, that these two and Meica obtained dynamite used to blow the doors of the mail car, and that all three were in the get-made bombs the night before the robbery. Federal agents said the robbery had been cleaned up with today's action. Part of the evidence was obtained through wires or sweethearts of some of the robbers, who were disgraced at the small amount of loot they received.

The federal grand jury today also

Elsas' Offer Facing City's Finance Body

Only Opposition to Gift Acceptance Said To Be From Private Hospitals.

While proponents of a move to establish a pay ward at Grady hospital prepared to stage another fight to push the project through city council at its regular meeting Monday, reports were that the only concerted opposition to the proposal is being made by owners and operators of private institutions.

Conciliatory champions of an attempt to in the $100,000 in the June finance sheet to accept a tender of another $100,000 by Jacob Elsas toward construction of the ward insist that a pay ward at Grady, conducted at minimum expense, will not interfere with the privately-conducted hospitals whose charges are beyond the reach of many who would patronize the pay ward at Grady, and get who are unwilling to go as charity patients.

Members of the finance committee of city council will consider the proposal when it begins making up the June finance sheet (to be offered to council at its meeting of June 18. All members of the hospitals and charities committee of city council and others interested in placing adequate and modern hospital facilities within the reach of Atlantans of moderate means will appear before the committee to ask that the $100,000 contribution from the city be included in the appropriations which the sheet will carry, and this plan is strongly endorsed.

PEKING DICTATOR READY TO QUIT 2-YEAR BATTLE

Chang Tso-Lin Feels Power Slipping as Nationalists Relentlessly Advance on City.

HOLDS MEETING WITH POWERS

Order Is Maintained as Southerners Approach; Belief Is That Fight Is Almost Over.

Peking, June 1.—(AP)—Marshal Chang Tso-lin, who has held dictatorial powers at Peking nearly two years, is on the verge of laying down his command.

He received the representatives of the powers at the palace today and, although he maintained the fiction that he was awaiting the result of a decisive fight with the nationalists at Linlin, 35 miles southwest of Peking, the universal belief is that the present regime in the capital is ended. It is expected that the city will be transferred quietly to the victorious nationalists under General Chiang Kai-shek.

Everything remained quiet and orderly, but those in charge of the foreign detachments are making all precautionary dispositions in order to protect their nationals, particularly at Tientsin, against trouble when the military turnover occurs.

Already a committee of safety, known as the "Chinese Charitable Relief association," is making arrangements for the orderly transfer of the city. This committee is headed by General Wang Shih-chen, chairman of the committee of safety during the period between the Kuomintang evacuation of and entry of the Mukden troops into Peking in 1926. He was minister of war in 1919 and chief of general staff the following year.

Though foreign residents are moving out of Peking, only the Japanese are leaving and another period of calm is expected to follow. There are plenty of troops, however, and the Chinese soldiers are being concentrated in the legation quarters, where, if necessary, they will be concentrated.

CANADA ACCEPTS PEACE PROPOSAL

Dominion Will Enter Into Study of Treaty to Outlaw Wars as Requested by Kellogg.

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—Canada, through her secretary of state for external affairs, W. L. Mackenzie King, has accepted Secretary Kellogg's invitation to join with the United States in the negotiation of a treaty for the renunciation of war.

"The government of Canada is certain that it speaks for the whole Canadian people," Mr. King said in his note made public here today, "in welcoming the outcome in the proposed multilateral pact, of the discussion initiated almost a year ago between the governments of France and of the United States. It is pleased to find that in this attitude it is in accord with all his majesty's other governments."

The proposal of the United States, by its directness and simplicity, affords the peoples of the world a new and notable opportunity of insuring lasting peace. Careful consideration has been given by Canada, he said, to the

ROBBERY ATTEMPT MADE IN SHADOW OF CITY STOCKADE

That the locality means nothing to a robber was proved late Friday night when a negro attempted to steal an automobile parked within a few yards of the city stockade, where many prisoners are expiating their offenses against laws of the city of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Baldwin, of 212 Rhinehart street, on an automobile ride found that their car was out of the city and in a street leading towards the stockade on Hilliard street. The negro, armed with an umbrella, pursued, hitting her over the head with his weapon. As he neared the stockade he apparently realized he was in dangerous territory and turning in the opposite direction, disappeared. Call Officers L. P. Higgins and F. T. Foster investigated, but could find no trace of the umbrella bandit.

PATRONAGE PROBE OF POST OFFICES TO OPEN IN CITY

Senator Brookhart Plans To Begin Quiz Into Alleged Sale of Offices Next Month.

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The senate's investigation into charges of sale of federal patronage will be started in Atlanta probably next month under tentative plans of Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the inquiry.

First attention will be given to Georgia, Brookhart said today, in accordance with the promise made to the Georgia senators who first asked for the investigation. While he intends to hold most of the hearings here, particularly in the case of postoffice department officials who will be summoned, Brookhart said he thought it would be best to get started at Atlanta.

Sensors George and Harris, of Tennessee, proposed an inquiry of patronage conditions in his state and Senator Brookhart said the committee plans to go into Tennessee and South Carolina and perhaps into some northern states, promising to "get to the root of this evil if there is an evil."

REQUEST FOR PROBE OUTGROWTH OF SUICIDE

The request of the Georgia senators for an investigation into the charges of sale of federal patronage in Georgia was the outgrowth of the suicide of L. S. Peterson, postmaster at Douglas, Ga., on April 1. Peterson shot himself after killing J. E. Kirkland, his money order clerk, the postmaster having been notified that he was being removed from the office.

Peterson left a note stating that Kirkland had reported him for some slight irregularities in the postoffice, and that Kirkland and another person had "gotten his job" and that he "could not stand it." Peterson also left a letter charging that, in order to keep his job as postmaster, he had been forced to contribute sums to the republican party amounting to more than $2,000.

Postoffice inspectors and department of justice agents made an investigation of Peterson's charges and reports have been sent to Washington. Local federal officials said they have not been advised yet of the results of the investigation.

EMORY TRUSTEES REFUSE TO CHANGE ATHLETIC POLICIES

Intercollegiate meets in the major sport events will continue to be barred at Emory, according to the vote taken Friday at the annual meeting of the board of trustees, following a proposal that the present policy be changed.

Emory already engages in intercollegiate activities in so far as track, tennis, swimming and golf are concerned. But a large number of students and alumni have used their influence each year in an effort to ban the collection of basketball, baseball, and football in the list of permitted intercollegiate sports.

The request that the Emory athletic policy be changed was presented to the board by Francis W. Carpenter, Nelson, Ga., editor of the Emory Wheel. The proposal was turned down, with practically no discussion.

LATE POLL COUNT IN WEST VIRGINIA CUTS SMITH'S LEAD

Charleston, W. Va., June 1.—(AP)—Belated returns tonight from the West Virginia primary cut somewhat into the lead of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, over Senator James A. Reed for the democratic presidential preference.

At the same time returns from two-thirds of the state showed 14 anti-Smith candidates; five Smith men and one undesignated man in the lead as delegates to the democratic national convention. The state has a delegation of 20 with 16 votes.

Returns from 2,063 of the 2,306 precincts gave Smith 72,900 and Reed 69,688.

Sensor Guy D. Goff continued to lead the lead over Secretary Hoover for the republican presidential preference. The vote from 2,170 precincts was: Goff 120,337 and Hoover 105,576.

Youth of Atlanta Impatient For Opening of Parks Today

ALL AMUSEMENTS FREE, GREAT CROWDS EXPECTED

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

Zero hour has been set for 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

And 50,000 Atlanta boys, girls and grown-ups this morning impatiently await the whistle to take off in what is destined to be the most successful, enthusiastic and best season of play ever inaugurated in the Atlanta park and playground system.

They're free! Every one of the scores of pleasure furnishing devices in use in the city parks will be turned over soon free for the day to any and all comers. This was the edict passed down by the Atlanta park committee through John A. White, chairman, and L. L. Wallis, superintendent of parks and playgrounds.

Swimming pools, the new ponies, tennis courts, golf courses, even the cyclorama will be open to the public without any cost, and officials planned to stage the most pretentious season in the history of the system.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, Mr. White and other members of the park committee and leading officials of the city and county are slated to open the season officially this afternoon. There will be few speeches, but lots of swimming, it was said.

If you can find a space to dive in, because of the congestion, all you have to do is to dive. Any bathing suit you have, can borrow or otherwise procure will be oked as long as it stays within the bounds of "decency," the committee has ruled.

Today, the opening, is expected to surpass all previous records at the pools. There are five, Grant, Piedmont, Moxley, Oakland city and Mad-dox.

The new clubhouse and the most modern in this section of the country, will be ready for use this afternoon if hurried efforts of workmen can get them ready.

Those who do not know how to swim have an opportunity to learn this summer at Piedmont park, Mr. Wallis announced. Miss Jewel Lane, who taught swimming in previous seasons, is back and will conduct classes daily.

Pools will open at 5:30 and close at 10:30 o'clock each morning with the exception of Sunday, when they will close at 8 o'clock. This is to permit the children to attend Sunday schools. In the afternoon they will be opened again at 2:30 o'clock and closed at 9:30 o'clock at night.

Colored residents come in for the free features of today's program. Washington park and all its concessions will be open free.

Members of the Howard revue gave Piedmont pool a pre-season initiation Friday afternoon when they took

TAMMANY CHIEF ESCAPES SUBPOENA

Lowden and Hoover Expeditiously Swelled by Testimony; Smith Chief Bares Expenses.

New York, June 1.—(AP)—More light on the activities of the Smith, Hoover and Lowden organizations here was obtained today by the senate presidential campaign funds committee, but the investigators found that the principal witness they sought, George W. Olvany, head of Tammany hall, was absent from the city.

The subpoena for Olvany was issued soon after the committee arrived here early today from Washington, but when the deputy sergeant-at-arms sought to serve it, he was informed by Olvany's secretary that the Tammany chieftain had left on a fishing trip with some friends and would not return until Monday. He will be summoned to Washington later.

Demand of Hefflin.

The call of Olvany's demand yesterday by Senator Hefflin, of Alabama, who told the committee he would be questioned as to what funds Tammany had spent to promote the presidential candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith.

From George Gordon Battle, New York attorney, the committee learned that $6,000 had been sent into North Carolina by Smith supporters since the committee made its visit to Raleigh May 21 and found that Battle had sent $2,500 into that state.

Some of the Olvany funds went in after the precinct primaries were held on May 26 for the election of delegates, adding that it was to be used for the cost of printing, postage and the like.

An additional expenditure of $2,175.20 on behalf of the candidacy

SOUTHERN CROSS CROSSES PACIFIC IN TIME OF 27:28

First Leg of Flight to Island Continent Is Accomplished With Landing at Honolulu.

Next Leg of Journey Is 3,100 Miles From Hawaii to Suva, of Fiji Island Group.

UNEVENTFUL TRIP REPORTED BY CREW

Honolulu, June 1.—(AP)—Spanning the Pacific air lane from Oakland, Calif., the giant tri-motored monoplane, Southern Cross, landed at Wheeler field, near here, at 12:19 p. m. Pacific coast time, today, completing the first leg of a 7,788-mile voyage from California to Australia.

The hazardous 2,400-mile ocean hop was made in 27 hours and 28 minutes. A race with a fast falling gasoline supply developed in the closing hours of the flight, and there were tense moments when the plane's radio, which had sent out a dramatic account of the hopes, fears and emotions of the crew of four, flashed a message "guess we are lost."

There was little gasoline to spare when the great blue and silver Fokker came to a halt after its long cruise from the mainland. It was the fifth time that the perilous air passage has been successfully negotiated.

Commanded by Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, and with a crew of Charles T. P. Uim, relief pilot; James Warner, radio operator, and Lieutenant Harry Lyon, navigator, the plane took off from Oakland at 8:51 a. m. Pacific time, yesterday.

Beautiful Trip.

"We had a beautiful trip, no trouble at all," said Captain Kingsford-Smith, first to leave the plane amid the plaudits of the emotional Hawaiian populace. "We will continue as planned to Suva."

If schedule is followed the fliers will hop off within a day or two on the second leg of the 3,100 miles to Suva, on the tiny Fiji islands. The take-off will be from a specially constructed runway on the barking sands of Kaniuni island.

Exceeding army and navy planes the Southern Cross came over Wheeler field, circled, and taxied down in front of the reviewing stand, where more than 2,000 people had gathered for the welcome. Governor Wallace R. Farrington, of Hawaii, was first to greet the intrepid crew.

About 10 o'clock last night the plane experienced its only reported trouble, when it was caught in a downward air current, and the radio was silenced after flashing out the brief message, "hit an air pocket."

For more than an hour there was silence and anxiety ashore crew space

CANDIDATES SPEAK AT FOUR MEETINGS

While intermittent showers Friday night peppered Atlanta, candidates for 13 contested posts in the city democratic primary, to be held Wednesday, rained verbal torrents at four rallies held throughout the city. Meetings were held at the Sunnyside, Fair Street, Adair and English Avenue schools, and all the candidates or their representatives made bids for votes as the last sprint got well under way. There are only four days left before the balloting.

Hansell and Clarke Donahison, formerly first assistant chief and Mr. Hansell's opponent, mixed it at the English Avenue school and kept the contest for this position to the fore. Mr. Donahison attacked Mr. Hansell's record and a system of fees which he claimed has been inaugurated under the regime of the incumbent. He also declared that the making of topographical, property line and triangulation maps at a cost of approximately $400,000 is a "useless waste of the city's revenue."

Fees Too High, Claim.
"Fees for cutting streets for the purpose of laying sewers and making other necessary connections in the streets are too high," the speaker said. "The construction department should not be a money-raising department. Chief Hansell recommended them."

The speaker flayed Chief Hansell for speaking and then leaving the meeting and declared "the always does that way when he can not have his own way about things."

Mr. Hansell spoke and then denounced Mr. Donahison mounted the rostrum. "My opponent will tell you that we are making an expensive map which is a useless expenditure," Mr. Hansell said in opening his address. "He will say an aerial map also is useless. Atlanta once had a topographical map of the city as it existed in the 80's, but it was so small that its usefulness has long since gone. We are attempting to make a map of cosmopolitan Atlanta, an Atlanta for the next 50 years. It will pay for itself many times in the money it will save the city in engineering mistakes due to failure of adequate knowledge of the terrain."

To Add Millions.
"The property line survey will add literally millions of dollars in taxable values to the tax books. It alone will pay the entire expense of all the maps and that in less than 10 years." Other aspirants who spoke, or were represented at the rallies Friday night in the city-wide contests, were F. B. Florence, R. A. McMurray and Marvin Roane, for tax collector; J. Ben Daniel, Steve C. Glass, J. M. Pickle and L. D. T. Quinby, for marshal; R. C. Turner and Pat Hendricks, for electrician; Ben T. Hiett and Cecil V. Whiddon, for alderman from the third; W. Guy Dobbs and W. C. Jenkins, for alderman from the seventh, and J. M. House and Ed A. Gilliam, for alderman from the twelfth.

actively in the field in behalf of their respective candidacies. The fourth ward will have the widest range of candidates of any ward in the city to select from when the polls open Wednesday morning. Residents of that ward will vote in all city-wide contests and to fill a councilmanic position and a board of education post. Both are contested. No other ward in the city can boast of two ward contests in the primary. Aspirants for ward posts in the primary are Joseph Berman, Fred Stinchcomb and F. A. Hollingsworth for council from the fourth ward; James E. Bowden and Tom Morris for council from the fifth ward; Harry York and Thomas L. White for council from the sixth ward; W. Garland Cooper and Solon Johnson for council from the tenth ward; William E. Saunders and Thomas Jones for council from the twelfth ward, and

J. Ira Harrelson and H. M. Morris for the board of education from the fourth ward. A meeting is slated tonight at the Atlanta Labor temple.

FLORIDA POSSE HUNTS ATTACKER OF WHITE WOMAN

St. Petersburg, Fla., June 1.—(AP) A posse of 50 men, headed by Deputy Sheriff Fred Wells, are scouring Pinellas county late tonight in a search for an unidentified negro who broke into a home at Pinellas park here and brutally attacked a white woman about 10 o'clock. The negro, said to have been intoxicated, fled from the house after cutting off the woman's hair with a razor and administering bruises and minor lacerations to her body. His only demands, while in the house, she said, were for booze and money. When she refused him, he attacked her, she said. Two children sleeping in the house were unharmed. Scores of automobiles carrying residents of this city were headed for the little village an hour after reports of the crime had been circulated.

Isn't it unpleasant to always have a "high-strung" person in the crowd?

Summer Picnic and Party Sandwiches

If you wish your sandwiches to be distinctive, highly nutritious and equally appetizing use home-made Boston Brown Bread instead of the regular white sandwich bread. They will make a decided hit with your guests, especially the children, when made from the following recipe:

2 cups sour milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 3-4 teaspoon soda, 5 cups Perkerson's Graham Flour.

Mix flour, soda and salt. Add molasses and milk, put in a buttered mold (1-lb. coffee cans will serve), and steam three hours. Fill mold only 2-3 full and cover tightly.

For corn sticks and muffins, Perkerson's Select Corn Meal, put up in sanitary pasteboard cartons, is unequalled. "The meal that puts Corn Pone in the class with Angel Food Cake."

Lawrence, Guilty Of Murder, Gets 30-Year Sentence

Pittsboro, N. C., June 1.—(AP)—V. Herbert Lawrence, Durham contractor, today was sentenced to 30 years in jail on a second degree murder charge in connection with the killing of Mrs. Annie Terry. He was denied bail. Defense filed motion of appeal to the supreme court.

Lawrence was accused of slaying Mrs. Terry and throwing her body into the Cape Fear river at Avenet's Ferry bridge. The body was found 10 days after the crime is alleged to have been committed and officers immediately started a search for a green automobile seen on the bridge by fishermen.

The search went into South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia, several traveling men with green cars and reported in the vicinity being investigated. All proved alibis.

When the search appeared to have been given up, Lawrence was arrested at Durham. The arrest was based on information supplied by relatives of the dead woman as to her relations with Lawrence, who was about to be married. A spot on the cushions in the green car was believed by officers to be blood and figured in the trial. Lawrence, during the trial, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. Despite the injury which was inflicted on the woman's head, the trial was delayed only one day. Lawrence was taken to a Durham hospital and given medical attention and was strong enough after two days to return to the courtroom.

GALVESTON BEAUTY PAGEANT DRAWS MANY VISITORS

Galveston, Texas, June 1.—(AP)—Although the first event of Galveston's pageant of pulchritude will not be held until tomorrow afternoon, when about 40 beautiful girls will take part in a sport clothes' pageant on the seawall boulevard, the city today was filling with visitors.

Five eastern entries arrived on the steamship "San Jacinto" from New York, bringing the total foreign and American entries to 32. They were Anna Dubin, "Miss Pennsylvania"; Isabel Waldner, "Miss Greater New York"; Elizabeth K. Smith, "Miss New Jersey"; Mary Dole, "Miss Connecticut"; and Winifred Watson, "Miss New York State."

TRY TO COMPROMISE RADIUM POISON CASE

Newark, N. J., June 1.—(AP)—Proposals for settlement of the $1250,000 suits of five women said to be dying as a result of their work in the factory of the United States Radium Corporation at Orange, N. J., today were before attorneys.

The proposals were advanced by Federal Judge William Clark, who is acting in a private capacity, at a conference yesterday among officials of the company, their insurance backers and lawyers for the women. A decision on the compromise proposals is expected to be made at a further conference in Judge Clark's chambers Monday morning. The damage suits are scheduled to come up in circuit court June 11.

Several physicians have said the five women are dying of radioactivity in their bodies, caused by absorbing radium when they touched to their lips the brushes they used in the factory to paint luminous dials on watches.

The five are Katherine Schaub, Quanta McDonald, Grace Fryer, Edna Hysman and Albin Larice. The proposals call for an annuity full settlements for money spent for medical treatment and insurance to go to their families when they die.

Justice Clark, prior to the conference, conferred with Dr. Harrison S. Martland, medical examiner, who told him that a recent test convinced him of the presence of radio activity in the women's bodies. When he had the women breathe against a pure zinc sulphide screen tiny sparks were visible.

Judge Clark said he was acting as a mediator merely in a private capacity as a citizen and from purely humanitarian motives. "I would like to see the girls get some compensation to make them happy for as long as they have to live," he said. "They need it now and to have their cases go to trial would mean that a decision might not be had for two or three years, and then it might come too late."

QUEEN MARIE ABLE TO LEAVE HER ROOM AFTER RHEUMATISM

Bucharest, Rumania, June 1.—(AP)—Queen Marie is resuming her activities after an indisposition which interrupted her for several days.

The Associated Press correspondent was informed at the palace today that "her majesty recently suffered a sharp attack of rheumatic neuralgia and was confined to her bedroom for five days by extremely painful attacks, which, however, were not dangerous. She resumed her audiences today."

HOUGHTON LANDS IN U. S. FOR BRIEF BUSINESS VISIT

New York, June 1.—(AP)—Alanson R. Houghton, ambassador to Great Britain, arrived on the liner Berengaria today for a brief visit. He also claimed any knowledge or interest in published stories that he would resign to become a candidate for United States senator.

Mr. Houghton explained that he has come home chiefly in connection with the estate of his brother, Arthur A. who died two months ago.

8 LIEUTENANTS CHANGE WATCHES ON CHIEF'S ORDER

One of the biggest changes of the year in the police department was effected Friday by orders issued by Chief of Police James L. Beavers, shifting 31 members of the police force to other watches, including eight lieutenants.

Lieutenants changed were J. A. Scott, E. E. Calloway, O. R. Jones, R. J. Brown, J. A. Hollis, C. H. Mitchell, T. D. Shaw and M. A. Hornsby. Other officers changed were F. M. Hajos, A. L. Kinard, J. ## GEORGIA INITIATES WAR-CURE MOVE

Athens, Ga., June 1.—(AP)—The Georgia conference on the Cause and Cure of War, the first such state meeting of a projected series of 48, was well on its way toward permanent organization today, and had before it one definite anti-war formula.

Before launching a program of round table discussions and addresses lasting through most of yesterday, a committee was appointed with representation from each of ten organizations which figured in the conference, to establish headquarters, probably in Atlanta.

Colonel Raymond Robbins, of Florida, in offering a suggestion for an international tribunal with judicial but no enforcement powers, declared that the present conception of international law would first have to be junked.

"International law is now based on fear of war," Colonel Robbins said. "It must in future be based on the hope of peace."

The Florida pointed to the United States supreme court as an example of the kind of tribunal that functioned without power to enforce its decisions, but depending entirely on the good faith of the sovereign states.

A tentative court along the same lines should prove feasible, he believed.

Both political parties were called on in resolutions to incorporate peace planks in their platforms, and in endorsement of multilateral treaties was also voted.

LATE TO WEDDING REHEARSAL FAILS AS SPEED EXCUSE

The Ancient Mariner was nowhere around to halt the speeding wedding guest, so Motorcycle Officers Bailey and McLean, sulking for the guy with the long whiskers, halted G. M. Phillips, of 29 Chattahoochee street, on May 25, and charged him with exceeding the speed limit.

Phillips explained to Recorder Murphy M. Holloway, Friday afternoon, that he was late for a wedding rehearsal and pleaded guilty to the charge. Recorder Holloway fined him $25 and costs.

Capt. B. O. Childs Receives Promotion To Major in Guards

Forsyth, Ga., June 1.—Captain B. O. Childs, of the Thirtieth tank company, has received notice from the adjutant general of the Georgia guards of his promotion to the rank of major. Major Childs has been captain of the above company for several years and will be commanding officer of the special troops of the state. His corps of officers will be stationed in Atlanta but Major Childs will have his headquarters in Forsyth.

DE MOLAYS TO CONFER HIGH HONOR DEGREES

The degree of the Legion of Honor of the Order of DeMolay, the highest distinction in the gift of the grand council of the order, will be conferred on four outstanding members of the chapter at a public ceremony to be held at the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock next Wednesday night, June 6. At the same meeting special honors will be presented to a number of prominent Masons of Atlanta who have been particularly active in DeMolay work.

J. K. Orr, past grand master of the grand encampment of the Knights Templar in the United States, and Perry L. Blackshear and Edward B. Cohen, both past grand commanders of Knights Templar in Georgia, are to receive their credentials and insignia as honorary members of the DeMolay Legion of Honor.

Thomas C. Law, potentate of Yahrah temple of the Order of the Mystical Shrine and past commander of Cœur de Lion commandery; Ernest W. Brown, K. G. C. H., of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, and director of work of the Scottish Rite bodies in Atlanta and past worshipful master of Bath lodge; F. and A. McKeen, past worshipful master of Palestine lodge; Claude N. Hughes, K. G. C. H., of the Scottish Rite Masons; and Eugene D. Thomas, active in both York and Scottish Rite Masonry, and past worshipful master of Battle Hill lodge, will be presented with a cross of honor for continued service on the advisory council of Atlanta chapter.

T. Barton Ford, Jr., Clement J. Ford, Leal M. Scheff and Robert E. Lourey, all past master councilors of Atlanta chapters of Order of DeMolay, are the recipients of the legion of honor together with its distinguishing insignia. The investiture will be made at a ceremony which will be open to the public and all who are interested in the DeMolay movement for preparing boys of from 15 to 21 for duties of good citizenship, are invited to be present.

The ceremony will be in charge of Howard Geldert, deputy in Georgia for the grand council. He will be assisted by Thomas C. Burford, acting grand master; Eugene (Buck) Peterson, grand chaplain; Park Dallas, commander in the south, and R. N. Ellett, Jr., commander in the west. The DeMolay members Alan Ford, Theo. Mandlin, Bill Mount, Ralph Gibson, McHenry Jackson, Oscar Kinsey and Aubrey Wilheit will act as preceptors.

Instrumental music for occasion in the form of a picnic concert will be furnished by the "Million Dolly" Shrine band of Yahrah temple, with other selections interspersed as incidental to the ceremonies.

No Parking.

Quintan, Ga., June 1.—H. D. Jordan, of Barney, had his automobile stolen nearly two months ago from his place and had given up any hope of recovering it when the authorities at Valdosta notified him that the car has been parked on the streets there six weeks.

Light Showers, Same Mercury, Are Due Today

Passing showers are forecast for today by C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist. Little change in temperature is expected by the weather bureau, although the weather man said that summer is just around the corner now and sweltering days will be upon Atlanta in full force soon.

Temperatures today will range between 68 and 84 degrees, Mr. von Herrmann said. This morning, 70 degrees recorded Friday morning was the highest minimum this year.

PLAN TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF HIGHWAY

Brunswick, Ga., June 1.—Tentative plans have been completed for what will probably be the biggest affair of the kind ever held in Georgia on the occasion of the formal opening of the Coastal Highway between Brunswick and Jacksonville on July 11. That stretch of the highway from Brunswick to Savannah, hard surfaced and entirely complete, has been open to traffic for several months.

Savannah has declared July 11 a holiday and Brunswick will probably do likewise. Harvey Grainger, of Savannah, chairman of the Coastal Highway commission, who is in charge of arrangements, announced that upwards of 6,000 cars will come from Savannah. It is expected that at least 2,000 will attend from Brunswick, while Jacksonville, northern Florida points and Camden county will participate probably with 2,000 cars.

Under the tentative program as announced by Mr. Grainger, the Savannah cars will leave that city at 8 o'clock on the morning of the eleventh, arriving in Brunswick at 10:30. They will be joined here by the local delegation, and the entire motorcade will proceed to the Georgia-Florida line at the St. Marys river, where Governor Martin, Mayor Wilson, of Jacksonville, and members of the state highway board, heading the Florida delegation, will be met. The entire party will then return to Brunswick and proceed to St. Simons, where the dedication exercises will be held.

Mr. Grainger announces that he expects three governors, those of Georgia, Florida and South Carolina, to participate in the exercises, together with the highway departments of the three states. Many other distinguished visitors will also be present.

Final arrangements are being made by the executive committee of the Atlanta Educational and Charitable Festival association for its ninth annual outing Monday at Lakewood park. Proceeds derived from the outing will be used for charitable work among Atlanta negroes.

Gates of the park will open at 9 o'clock Monday morning with festivities beginning at 10 o'clock. From that hour until 11 o'clock, at night, Lakewood park in its entirety will be turned over to the negroes. The association has asked that housewives of the city give their help Monday afternoon and night off.

Midway attractions will be running in full blast Monday and in addition the colored Elks' band will give a concert; bicycle, motorcycle and automobile races will be held in front of the grandstand during the afternoon. At night a boxing contest will be held.

150 LOCAL WOMEN TAKE EXAMINATION ON SAFE DRIVING

"Name five important things women can do to reduce traffic accidents. This and many other special and technical questions on driving were submitted to about 150 Atlanta women who Friday took an examination on what they had learned from attending the lectures given to the safe driving classes for women which have been conducted here since May 10. The examination was given in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium and the "pupils" who passed it will be awarded diplomas at graduation exercises which will be held in the Ansley hotel.

Final tests of a practical nature will be given Tuesday morning, after a parade which will form at about 9:30. These tests will be given under supervision of traffic officers of the police department in actual driving conditions. The scoring will be done on a basis of points and the winner of the highest rating will be presented with a prize at the graduation exercises.

NEGROES WILL GIVE BIG OUTING MONDAY AT LAKEWOOD PARK

Final arrangements are being made by the executive committee of the Atlanta Educational and Charitable Festival association for its ninth annual outing Monday at Lakewood park. Proceeds derived from the outing will be used for charitable work among Atlanta negroes.

ELECTRIFICATION SEEN AS MAIN RURAL NEED

Panthersville, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The assistance offered by the development of water powers in the upbuilding and expansion of Georgia's rural communities was emphasized in an address here Friday by Lynwood W. Gray, agricultural engineer of the Georgia Power company, at the southwest DeKalb county consolidated school district.

"It is hoped," Mr. Gray said, "that the electrification of Georgia's rural communities will help to bridge the gap between the state's agriculture and industry. An enlightened public sentiment is recognizing the fact that the social and economic status of the rural sections must be maintained upon an equality with the urban sections, with this end in view, social, industrial and agricultural interests are making a strong effort to coordinate their mutual interests for the general good."

"The power companies in Georgia have recently announced definite policies with respect to rural electrification and are arranging to extend their transmission and distribution lines into the rural sections as rapidly as connections will warrant."

WIDER MAIN STREET BACKED BY PEOPLE OF COLLEGE PARK

Property owners of College Park are pledging cooperation in the projected widening of Main street for the benefit of through traffic, it was reported at a recent meeting of the "300" club, College Park civic organization, which met at the women's club building.

Professor W. S. Cox, chairman of a committee backing this improvement, declared that the majority of property owners favor the widening, which would greatly facilitate the movement of traffic into Atlanta.

Chairman Walter B. Stewart, of the county commission, and Dr. W. A. Shelton, of Emory university. The meeting also discussed the possibility of opening up another traffic artery into Atlanta to relieve the congestion on Main street, with a strong sentiment in favor of the new road, it was announced.

A committee appointed to recommend names for four College Park schools reported as follows: George F. Longino, first ward; Abner R. Irlin, second ward; Benjamin Neely, third ward, and Samuel C. Young, high school. The names were selected as memorials to the community's best known and most useful citizens.

SEAT SALE IS HEAVY ON 'TWO BLACK CROWS'

The heaviest seat demand ever experienced in the history of the South-Georgia Musical bureau was evidenced Friday when the seat sale opened for the performance to be given next Wednesday at the Erlanger by the "Two Black Crows," W. C. Fields famous folies comedian, and other artists.

S. Russell Bridges, president of the bureau, stated that at both box offices, Cable Piano company and Phillips & Crow Piano Co., a steady line of purchasers selected their seats all day long and in addition the mails brought in many orders from out of town. One Jacksonville man wrote for a block of 10 seats and others from South Carolina asked for eight.

Morna and Mack, "The Two Black Crows," are undoubtedly the biggest single drawing card in the amusement world today. Their inimitable black-face dialogue is familiar all over the English-speaking world, because of the millions of their phonograph records that have been sold, but it is rarely that the opportunity to see and hear them in the flesh is offered outside of New York or London.

Mr. C. Fields is stoniest as great a drawing card. He is classed as the funniest comedian who ever starred with Ziegfeld's Follies, as well as having been the feature performer in a charge of being drunk on the streets, relayed the request to acting Recorder Ellis Barrett Friday and the judge obliged with a 30-day sentence, 20 of which were suspended pending good behavior. Cook told the judge he had been arrested on a similar charge last year, that his wife had made a similar request to the one she had voiced this year and that he had found the 15 days more than sufficient for the sobering period.

MAN GETS 10 DAYS IN CITY STOCKADE TO FORGET LIQUOR

C. M. Cook, of 18 East Alexander street, will spend the next 10 days in the city stockade recovering from a recent period of insobriety. At the end of that time he will be released to be free as long as he avoids corn liquor, home made brew and the like. Failing in this, he will face another sentence and also a suspended period of 20 days.

His trip to the city workhouse is due in part to a request by his wife that he be put somewhere long enough to sober up. Officers Goode and Melton who arrested the prisoner on a charge of being drunk on the streets, relayed the request to acting Recorder Ellis Barrett Friday and the judge obliged with a 30-day sentence, 20 of which were suspended pending good behavior. Cook told the judge he had been arrested on a similar charge last year, that his wife had made a similar request to the one she had voiced this year and that he had found the 15 days more than sufficient for the sobering period.

HARWELL FACES TRIAL ON JUNE 12

The assault with intent to murder case against Walter E. Harwell, city marshal, accused in an indictment of shooting at Steve Glass, his assistant, Friday afternoon was placed on Fulton superior court calendar for trial June 12, before Judge Virlyn B. Moore.

Evidence at a preliminary hearing in municipal court, called recently before Judge Luther Z. Rosser, brought out the fact that Harwell shot at his deputy during an election row in the city hall, the bullet going wild.

Glass testified that Harwell was disgruntled over the former's stand in an election dispute, and came into the office in a belligerent mood, firing at Glass when the deputy protested.

The quarrel occurred about the middle of March. Harwell is under a $2,500 bond.

2,600 SUBPOENAED IN ELECTION FRAUD

Tampa, Fla., June 1.—(AP)—Despite a recent ruling by Attorney General Fred Davis that registration supervisors have no authority to remove names of illegal voters from registration books, County Solicitor R. E. L. Blackburn today had submitted to the county clerk approximately 2,600 subpoenas for alleged bogus registrants to be stricken from the records of Hillsborough county.

Names of approximately 800 additional witnesses were called by the county solicitor today, bringing to 2,600 the number of subpoenas already issued in an investigation of alleged wholesale election fraud in the county.

Blackburn said he would continue to erase the names of the alleged bogus registrants as fast as they were submitted to him by the county solicitor.

In making his ruling on May 14 that registration supervisors have no authority to remove names of illegal registrants from the books, Attorney General Davis declared that the "remedy for this situation is challenge of voters as provided in section 317 of the revised general statutes."

"Inspectors of election should require identification of registrants when offering to vote, and such inspectors may exclude all from voting who illegally registered."

In a telegram to a local newspaper today, Attorney General Davis reiterated his statement that the county supervisor was without authority in striking the names from the records.

Chancery has said that he was acting on the advice of four Tampa attorneys that he did have the right to remove names of illegal registrants from the books, and would continue his investigation.

With the summoning of additional witnesses, indications today were that the county solicitor's investigation of the alleged fraud might continue past election day on June 3.

Life of sacrifice painted by leader of Salvation Army

A lifetime of heroic self-sacrifice with the approval of his own conscience and his God as his only reward was the prospect for Col. Alfred A. Chandler, chief secretary of the southern territory, at the year's last "holiness meeting" for cadets at the training camp here.

The meeting was held Friday night at territorial headquarters chapel on Ellis street and was attended by commanding officers of the territory and the Georgia division, and by 50 candidates for Salvation Army officership who have been undergoing a rigorous training course, with studies and practical training in evangelistic and social service work, making a 10-hour a day schedule from 6:30 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 o'clock at night for the last ten months.

Examinations and tests will continue for three weeks more and commencement exercises, with the commissioning of the successful candidates, will take place on Tuesday, June 25.

Members of Howard Revue Christen Piedmont Park Pool, To Open Today

Members of the Howard revue Friday christened the swimming pool at Piedmont park, and the group of nymphs pronounced the swim one of the best they have had. Every facility is ready for the reception of thousands of swimmers who are expected to dip this afternoon when the five city pools are officially thrown open. Atlanta's swimming holes and all other park concessions will be free to the public beginning at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. This has been arranged by the park committee of city council, which is headed by Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward. The ladies in the picture slipped into Bradleys furnished by E. H. Jordan & Sons, southeastern representatives of the Bradley Woolen Mills, Inc., and took their plunge. Those in the picture are Miss Buster Dahl, Miss Hannah Haven, Miss Marion Ford, Miss Carman Ford, Miss Hazel Furman and Miss Mary Plunk.

Rome, Ga., June 1.—(AP)—Dr. Arthur Theford, 51, originator of nationally known patent medicines, shot and killed himself at his home here today. He had recently returned from a private sanitarium where he was treated for mental breakdown, it was said.

Although he had sold the rights to many of the medicines he originated, Dr. Theford still was engaged in manufacturing. He left a comparatively small estate.

He had lived in Rome 25 years, 25 of which were given to the preparation of his medicines.

Few 'Rare' Coins Are Worth More Than Face Value

String up your old coins and give them a good look over. You may find that some of them are worth more than their face value. According to information received from the Numismatic company, of Texas, only coins in excellent state of preservation are worth being cashed and any coin marred or defaced in the slightest degree is worth little more than its face value. The value of a coin depends not upon its age, but upon the number of such coins issued from a mint at one time, according to the company.

The price of old coins is the 1804 Fillet Head large eagle silver dollar, which was quoted in 1925 at $1250. A recent quotation on $3 gold pieces of $1250 undoubtedly was given by a collector for a coin in very good state of preservation. A scratched or slightly nicked $3 gold piece of 1870 or 1875 is worth at most $120, it was said.

The highest possible quotations for coins under $1 minted before 1875 is about $5 and the only valuable gold dollars are those from the "1" mint in 1854, quoted at $100. The 1834 $2.50 gold piece is worth less than $150 and the only other valuable $2.50 gold piece is the 1841 coin without a mint mark.

Five-dollar gold pieces have the following values: For 1829, $100; 1830, $1000; 1798, $600. Ten-dollar gold pieces are valued only for 1850 and 1851. The octagon shaped $50 gold piece is valuable only for the years 1851 and 1852. The round ones are valuable for all issues in 1855.

Few minor coins have a value of $2, but an occasional coin of this type can bring in $50 if it is in practically perfect condition. The following may be valuable: the 1802 $5 silver piece, the 1804 10c silver piece, the 1827 quarter-dollar, the 1838 half-dollar from mint "O," and the 1853 half-dollar without rays or arrows.

The value of old coins increases in proportion to their face value; the greater value, the greater number of valuable issues.

ALDERMAN'S AUTO STOLEN 3 TIMES, AGAIN RECOVERED

The "Jinx" seems to be following Alderman Robert F. Pennington, of the first ward. And incidentally "Lady Luck" in the person of Atlanta police seems to be hard on the heels of the "Jinx."

At noon Friday the alderman's auto was stolen. It was the third time the car had disappeared within 60 days, police recovering it on the two previous occasions. This time Mr. Pennington believed his machine was gone for good but his luck continued.

Late in the afternoon Detective G. E. Barrett, who was riding along Stewart avenue, saw the car. Two negroes were enjoying a ride, that is, enjoying it until the detective gave chase. When they found they had no chance to escape with the car, the two occupants leaped out and escaped.

The car was returned to its owner.

DECATUR D. A. R. TO HONOR DEKALB

Decatur, Ga., June 1.—A marker commemorating the valor of Baron DeKalb, hero of the revolution, will be unveiled by the DeKalb chapter of D. A. R. June 14, Flag day, at the boundary of Gwinnett and DeKalb counties. It is announced, about two miles from Tucker.

Mrs. John Montgomery, retiring head of the D. A. R. chapter, will preside at the exercises. The principal speaker at the ceremonies will be John Kelly.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE TRUSTEES RENAMED

Six members of the board of trustees of the Georgia State Teachers' college, at Athens, were reappointed Friday by Governor L. G. Hardman, as follows: Annie Freeman Johnson, Athens, seventh district; Mrs. Ira E. Farmer, Thomson, tenth district; Mrs. Howard McCall, Atlanta, fifth district; Mrs. Julia A. White, Athens; and Mrs. W. W. Starke, Commerce, state-at-large. The terms are for six years each, expiring August 27, 1934.

WESLEY NURSES TO GET NEW HOME

Transfer of the $157,500 property, building and endowment assets of the new Emory Junior college, at Valdosta, to the Emory board of trustees, and announcement that construction of a $200,000 nurses' home for Wesley Memorial hospital is expected to start this fall featured the annual session of the Emory university trustees Friday on the campus of the institution.

The papers representing the assets were presented to the board by J. R. Fisher, president of the Valdosta Chamber of Commerce; C. L. Smith, president of the Valdosta school board; and R. S. Richards, member of Valdosta's city council. W. B. Stubbs, of Savannah, has been elected associate dean of the college of arts and sciences and will be in charge of the junior college, it was announced.

The assets presented to the board of trustees follow: Scholarship fund of $15,000 and papers promising payment of an additional $70,000 on June 6 when the Valdosta work bonds are sold; a deed to the campus of 43 acres valued at $107,200; and title to the completed administration building, valued at $150,000.

The plan to construct the nurses' home was presented in recommendations by Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, who pointed out that three floors of the hospital now used by the nurses are urgently needed for patients. Tentative plans for the building, drawn by Hal F. Hertz, architect, were submitted to the building committee of the board. Erection of the nurses' home had previously been recommended to the board by the hospital staff, headed by Dr. R. H. Oppenheimer.

Recent changes in curriculum and improvements in scholarship are among the most significant achievements in Emory's history, according to a review of the year's work by Dr. Cox. The outstanding accomplishment of the year was the complete revision of the curriculum of the college, which has been renamed the "College of Arts and Sciences," Dr. Cox reported. The regular four-year course will be separated into a two-year junior college and a two-year senior college next fall, each having a distinct curriculum and definite requirements for graduation leading up to a comprehensive examination at the end of the fourth year.

Reports presented to the board showed that the operating expenses of the university during the past 12 months were $807,066.32, and that a $150,000 chemistry building, a $140,000 swimming pool and five new tennis courts were constructed during the year. Gifts in excess of $100,000 were received through the expansion fund and from miscellaneous sources, it was reported.

Beneficent for 1927-28 was 2,147, an increase of 90 over the previous year, the student body having shown an average increase of 100 a year for the past five years.

A total of 4,201 patients were treated by Wesley Memorial hospital during the year. Of these, 708 were charity and part pay patients, not including the 1,455 others who received free service through the outpatient department.

The university library received 3,295 new volumes and completed cataloging more than 1,000,000 of our card files. Faculty members delivered 1,500 lectures or addresses off the campus and published 125 scholarly articles.

CITY EMPLOYEES PLAN TO ORGANIZE BASEBALL TEAM

A movement was launched Friday at city hall to organize a ball team made up of city employees. Ben L. Askew, assistant to H. C. Martin, in the health department, and a professional ball player, is sponsoring the movement, and the plan has been approved by Mayor Ragsdale.

Employees of all city departments would be eligible to try out for the team. Mr. Askew said, and he has asked all men who are interested, or who have played any baseball, to communicate with him. An organization meeting will be held some time next week.

Chicago Chamber Opens Office Here

Here are Chicago's "good will ambassadors" to Atlanta and the rest of the southeast, pictured in front of the newly-opened Atlanta branch offices of the Chicago Association of Commerce, at 19 Auburn avenue. The Atlanta office is the first permanent branch of a chamber of commerce to be established anywhere in the United States. Those in the picture are, from left to right: Colonel H. F. Miller, director in charge of trade and commerce of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Miss E. N. Rasmussen, office manager, and Jarvis B. Price, branch office manager. Colonel Miller will remain in Atlanta for the next several weeks, and then will be a frequent visitor here in connection with the Chicago chamber's work. Many visitors already have been received at the local offices, among them business men, bankers and visitors from Chicago.

EMORY CLASS OF '93 MEETS HERE MONDAY

Members of the Emory university class of 1893 will hold their thirty-fifth reunion in Atlanta Monday and Tuesday, with a number of prominent southern leaders attending, according to an announcement Friday by Norman P. Miller, chairman of the commencement committee. There are 35 living members of the class, most of whom will be present.

The guest of honor will be Bishop Warren A. Candler, who was president of Emory when the class graduated. The program will include meetings on the present campus and at Oxford, where Emory was located in 1893.

The reunion will start Monday morning with attendance of the class members at the Alumni association meeting on the Emory campus. The university will give an alumni luncheon at noon. Dean C. C. White, of the Emory college of arts and sciences, will be the principal speaker of the day. The Atlanta members of the class of 1893 are to entertain the visiting members with a dinner at 7 o'clock Monday night at the Athletic club.

The class members will go to Oxford at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and will be given a luncheon there at noon. Dr. James L. Mann, of Greenville, S. C., will deliver a memorial address in honor of members of the class who have died.

Among those who will attend are Judge John P. Brown, Jacksonville, Fla.; former United States senator from Florida, Dr. T. D. Ellis, Nashville, Tenn.; secretary board of trustees, Southern Railway, Atlanta; J. E. Wall, president board of trustees, Southern Railway, Atlanta; Rev. W. P. King, Gainesville, Fla.; N. Macdonell, with whom president and board chairman of Waycross, Samuel L. Willard, chairman of directors Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York, and Lieutenant Colonel T. E. Beckstrom, of the United States army.

SALVATION ARMY TO HOLD FIFTEEN SERVICES SUNDAY

Salvation Army officers will conduct evangelistic services Sunday morning and night at five regular meeting places, and at 10 open-air street meetings in various parts of Atlanta.

Adjutant F. Fox will conduct services at corps No. 1 hall, 544 Ellis street; Adjutant H. C. Banks at corps No. 2 hall, 1111 Selma avenue; Adjutant L. R. Debevoise at corps No. 3 hall at 164 Carroll street; Captain W. Stevenson at corps No. 4 hall, 781 Bankhead avenue; Private J. Hirschler at the Men's Social Service center, 255 Simpson street, at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Open-air meetings will precede the morning and evening services and brigades of cadets from the training camp on Luckie street will conduct additional open air services in the northwestern section of Atlanta in the afternoon.

JUDGE G. H. HOWARD WILL SPEAK TODAY TO CITY SALESMEN

Judge G. H. Howard will be principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the City Salesmen's association at 11:30 o'clock this morning at city hall. Judge Howard's subject will be "Moderation."

Another feature of the weekly program, according to announcement Friday by T. L. Simpson, president of the association, will be the discussion of the plans for a week's vacation to be taken by all the salesmen, from July 16 to 25.

Boy Scouts To Parade Today

DOUG TO SPEAK AT WESLEY MEMORIAL
In Honor of Douglas Oliver

BY HELEN AND OLIVE PARISH.
Douglas L. Oliver, Atlanta Eagle Scout, who leaves Atlanta for New York Sunday morning to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson on their next African "safari," will be honored this afternoon by a parade in which more than 2,000 Atlanta Scouts and scout executives will participate.

The parade will form at 3:45 o'clock at the junction of Peachtree and Baker streets, with the Police band leading, followed by a car in which will be Mayor Ragsdale, Douglas, his mother, Mrs. W. K. Duncan, his troop leader, W. E. Cooley.

Around the car Doug's own troop, No. 25, will form a guard of honor, and following this will be another auto carrying scout officials, including W. A. Dobson, city scout executive; T. W. Moore, president of the scout council; and W. P. Herring, scout commissioner. Then will come about 2,000 scouts, marching in troops.

The line of march will be down Peachtree to Forsyth, Marietta, Five Points, and from there to the corner of Edgewood and Ivy streets, where the parade will disband at the Wesley Memorial church. At the church a rally will be held, featured by speeches of Douglas, Mr. Moore and Mr. Nicholson. An additional point of interest will be the illustrated lecture of E. J. Dodd, who will do his best to demonstrate some of the tricks of camping. Mr. Dodd has been for two years an instructor at "Cuckoo Land," a camp in Pennsylvania.

The parade is a farewell tribute from his brother scouts to the Atlanta lad. A party composed of Doug's mother, his former social science teacher at the Bass Junior High school, Miss Elise Stokes, and a number of friends and relatives from the Carolinas and Maryland will make the trip to New York, to bid Doug Goodbye when he sails June 5, on the liner "Isle de France."

Douglas, David Martin, of Minneapolis, and Robert Douglas, of Greenville, N. C., will travel together from France to Africa, landing at Mombasa, Kenya, where they will be met by the Martin Johnsons. They will make their African headquarters at the Johnson home by Lake Paradise.

From there they will make photographic expeditions in all directions. Doug was presented Wednesday morning with a Cine-Kodak, a personal gift from Robert W. Woodruff, president of the Coca-Cola company. He plans to make extensive use of it on the trip, and to write a book of his adventures to show the Atlanta Scouts.

Atlanta Scouts moving pictures of his travels. He is eagerly looking forward to his trip, and hopes to be back home by next October.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR C. H. BROTHERTON

Out of respect to the memory of Charles H. Brotherton, 57, for 50 years a resident of this city, who died Friday morning at his home, 640 Gray place, Fulton superior court was recessed at noon by order of Senior Judge John D. Humphries.

Funeral services for Mr. Brotherton, whose death followed an illness of more than a year, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Wesley Methodist church, with the Rev. Gaston Williams and the Rev. G. W. Felton officiating.

Mr. Brotherton was born in Atlanta, the son of the late Captain W. H. Brotherton, noted Confederate veteran, and Brotherton later Mrs. Brotherton, Miss Parline Williams, of Manchester, Tennessee.

The deputy was appointed under the late Judge Henry Tanner, later serving under Judge Arnold Broyles and Thomas C. Miller, clerk of superior court.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Brotherton is survived by three brothers, Frank M., Harold P., and William M. Brotherton, a daughter, Mrs. Green; a son, William H. Brotherton, and two sisters, Mrs. P. B. Walker, and Mrs. John M. Berry, of Rome, Ga.

ATTEMPT TO KILL WIFE, BURN HOUSE, LAID TO HUSBAND

Failing in a black-jack attack on his estranged wife, W. M. Smith burglarized her home and sought to set it on fire, according to three indictments found Friday, which charge Smith with assault with intent to murder, burglary and arson.

Smith attacked his wife last March, the true bills say, returning last week to her residence at 110 West Baker street for the arson attempt.

The building is owned by Mrs. Katherine Conner, of 105 Fourteenth street, N. E.

The husband was bound over by the recorder under a $500 bond, which was increased to $1,500 by the solicitor's office when the indictments were returned.

FULTON OFFICER TO GET SAUNDERS TO LEAVE TODAY

A Fulton county officer is expected to leave today for New York to return for trial here George M. Saunders, who is under nine indictments growing out of his brokerage activities in Atlanta during 1927. Solicitor General John A. Boykin will seek requisition papers this morning from Governor L. G. Hardman, it was announced Friday.

According to advices received by local authorities, Saunders is being held in New York, with Jerry Tiffany and E. O. Freeman, Saunders is said to have operated a brokerage concern here under the name of Phillips & Co., selling a number of stocks alleged to be worthless. Tiffany and Freeman are under three joint indictments with Saunders.

CANDY, TOILET WATER, CIGARETTES STOLEN
Police reports Friday disclosed theft of three boxes of candy, three bottles of toilet water, 14 cartons of cigarettes and a box of cigars from Watson's Drug store, on Peachtree road, and approximately $10 worth of barber's tools from the barber shop of J. R. Cullen, 496 Whitehall street.

VIADUCTS AWAIT DEPOT DISPOSITION

Final action in connection with approval of the plans to build viaducts over the railroad tracks in Atlanta will not be taken by the state viaduct commission until the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad has filed its plans regarding the disposition of the present Union station site, it was announced Friday by the commission. This body was appointed by the state legislature to protect the state of Georgia's interest in the matter and it was stated Friday that the commission will not grant its final approval to the improvement project until the railroad has made public its plans.

It was learned that the commission opposes the abandonment of the present Union station property. The proposed development of the Union station property is linked closely with the construction of the viaducts over the tracks and, although construction work on the viaducts is now under way, the commission has not definitely given its approval to the plans.

The commission has approved the general plans for the viaducts but has not approved the detailed plans, either for the viaducts or for the Union station development. The members of the commission feel that the railroad should not be permitted to abandon the Union station as a passenger station as they fear the state will suffer irreparable loss from such a move.

No date has been fixed for a session of the commission but members will be ready to attend a session as soon as the railroad makes public its plans relative to the disposition of the Union station site. State Senator Walter Hendrix, of Atlanta, is chairman of the commission and Emmet Williams, of Monroe, is secretary.

FORMER ATLANTAN NOW MISSISSIPPI PLANTER-EDITOR

Farming a 3,600-acre farm without a mule and editing and publishing the only newspaper in Leland, Miss., is one of the occupations of Mr. Frazier, former Atlantan and Oglethorpe alumnus of 1923, who is spending his vacation here.

Mr. Frazier, who graduated in the department of journalism at Oglethorpe, had two years of newspaper experience in Durham, S. C., and now is editing and printing the Leland Enterprise. His paper discontinued operation last week, when the 3,600-acre Mississippi river crossed through its establishment, but put out an issue the following week, with the workmen up to their knees in water.

In addition to his newspaper work, Mr. Frazier suggested the invention of the four-row cultivator, now manufactured by the International Harvester company. The inventor, John F. Aldrich, owner of the plantation, described the machine as a machine which "flood" drove out most of the available farm labor.

Mr. Frazier will be in Atlanta a few days, in which he will return to Leland to resume his journalistic and agricultural activities.

F.S. ELLIS LEAVES ESTATE TO WIDOW AND 2 DAUGHTERS

An estate valued at $250,000 was distributed under the will of the late Frank S. Ellis, prominent Atlantan, who died early this week. The will, filed for probate Friday in the office of Fulton county clerk, named Mr. Ellis' widow and son-in-law, Henry A. Newman, as executors, with full powers. Mrs. Ellis was bequeathed half of the estate, from the estate, the other half to be divided between Mr. Ellis' daughters, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. William McKenzie, of Atlanta. Sister of Mr. Ellis, Mrs. D. M. Ellis, and Mrs. Lucy Ellis Bain, are to receive $5 a month each.

After chasing an automobile more than four miles Friday, Patrolman R. D. Davis and R. T. Denny confiscated one gallon of whisky and surrounded the wrecked remains of two automobiles. # Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPIG

SYNOPSIS.
Old John Pylson, formerly a bookbinder in London and later in Whitechapel, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Craven when his son, Conrad, comes to him there. He is estranged from both his sons since the beginning of the war and they have lost track of him. Conrad hastens to tell his brother, Fred, that he has seen his father. Fred's son, Lance Pylson, had believed his grandfather dead, but he looks him up at the inn. Conrad takes a room in London and after gaining his father's reluctant consent to writing, in London Lance meets and is attracted to Olive Gladson, a maid in the inn. Mary Merle, a friend of Old Pylson, takes care of a blind brother.

INSTANTANEOUS SUSPICION

Olive jangled. Lance found himself looking at her critically as he might have looked at a stranger, and realizing as he looked at her that in spite of their intimacy—they were strangers. It struck him as being rather deplorable, though the fault was as much his as hers, for had he desired to see more in her than the maidservant or a dancing girl on a stage appealing to him with legs and arms. They had lost themselves in the physical, and in emerging from things physical he seemed to become aware of her meretricious smartness, the thinness of her, both physically and spiritually. Yet, could she help it? Had he asked her to be anything else? Could she be anything else?

The white bunghole looked rather soiled and shabby on this gray August day. Almost it was as shabby and unmythical as an anonymous room in some anonymous back street hotel. Lance conceived distaste for the place as he looked at it, and he moved to wonder whether it affected Olive in the same way.

She gave a sudden little laugh.

"Dearie, he's taking down the lanterns!"

The owner of the bunghole, looking swollen in a white sweater and flannel trousers, was standing on a garden chair, unfastening the Chinese lanterns. A few heavy rain drops were making little circles on the dead surface of the river.

"Poor devil!" said Lance.

She jerked a sudden glance at him. With her lover feeling like that? Or just how was he feeling?

Inevitably the rain came down. They had to pole hurriedly into the back-water, and spread the canvas cover, and make tea, with the rain dripping from the willows and the alders. English weather, river weather, reality and not romance. After tea, Lance lit a pipe, and with a preoccupied expression, explored the interior of his suitcase. He had brought with him those five chapters that Venerable had disapproved of; it was his intention to re-read them.

"What's that, boy?"

"Manuscript. Care to read some?"

He got the impression that her attitude was full of watchfulness and suspicion.

"We're quite domesticated—aren't we? I ought to have brought some sewing."

"Not a bad idea."

He passed her the last five chapters.

"Read it. You can give me an opinion."

She asked him for a cigarette, and having lit it, she sat considering him. "Think my opinion's worth anything?"

"It might be. What do you read?"

"Not much. Edgar Garland—and Isaac Gildenstein."

"Edgar Garland," said Lance, "good Lord!"

She made a face at him.

"You do—take yourself seriously. Who's going to wash up the tea things?"

"Woman's department."

"Thanks. We'll do it presently, together. Meanwhile—I'll go and visit Clara."

"Who's Clara?"

"The lady of the bunghole. She's rather amusing. No dinner under the lanterns, dearie, tonight."

He gave her the enigma of a smile.

"Smelly paraffin lamp—probably. Tomato soup, tongue and salad, prunes and timed milk."

"Positivist."

"Well—go and see."

She lifted a flap of the canvas, and uncovered the wet grass bank, and the shiny black stem of an alder. The rain was coming down. She looked a little pathetic.

"Oh, boy, I'll get wet."

He glanced at her flimsy shoes and silk stockings, and suddenly he realized the pathos of her, but not as she would have wished him to realize it. He was aware of her pretty flimsiness, of all her little expedients and ingenuities, her oneness against the world, the finality of her appeal. She had just that face, and that mouth, and her mannerisms, and a kind of cheap defiance. He felt sorry.

"Stay here—I'll go—presently."

She looked at him for a moment, and her eyes puzzled him. He did not know how quick a woman can be in picking out the threads of a man's mind towards her.

"Thanks—awfully—dear Edgar."

She was out of the punt and up the bank like a cat with wet fur, and he sat and pulled at his pipe, and looked at the grass bank, and tried to sort out the situation. Was it that she suspected? Or could a woman be jealous of a few pieces of paper pinned together with brass clips? Vaguely irritated he settled himself to read those five chapters.

At the end of 10 minutes he was re-reading a page that had gone out, and his face was very serious. He was thinking, "How did I come to write this stuff?"

He was feeling disturbed and perplexed, for a few weeks ago he had been so sure that he had written something that was both vivid and very clever, and that this wet August evening he saw his impressions hanging like chunks of red meat in a butcher's shop. It was all there and crude flesh, a butcherly business, and he was conscious of being shocked by it because it was his.

But how was it that he had written the stuff, and thought it good? Had he been obsessed? Had he been seeing too many painted faces, and splashed faces? It was not that the work was sinister; you can be fastidious and very sinister—but these chapters were vulgar, and vulgarity is a personal product. The thing in itself need not be vulgar; it is the way in which you treat it. And he had given those chapters to the Venerable!

He felt hot.

But was it all bad, mere cynicism and treachery? He read on. He was able to assure himself that the rest of it was almost as unimpeachable, and that it moved in him a sense of anger and of heat. What muck! Though there was nothing moral—so-called—in his gesture of scorn, but the influence of the craftsman who was caught himself perpetuating humbug. Away with it! The stuff might just as well go into the river.

"Oh, boy, why didn't we bring gum boots? Clara, poor dear, won't be able to cook us any dinner."

"Pain in her poor tummy. I'm going to be sick. Say, I want to read some of her story."

"You do?"

"Please."

His glance was deliberate and thoughtful. He tossed the chapters across to her.

"Right; you shall. My writing's pretty awful."

"Why don't you have it typed?"

"Economy—and caution. I'm not going to have it photographed until the picture is complete. The critic in the punt. You can say just what you jolly well think."

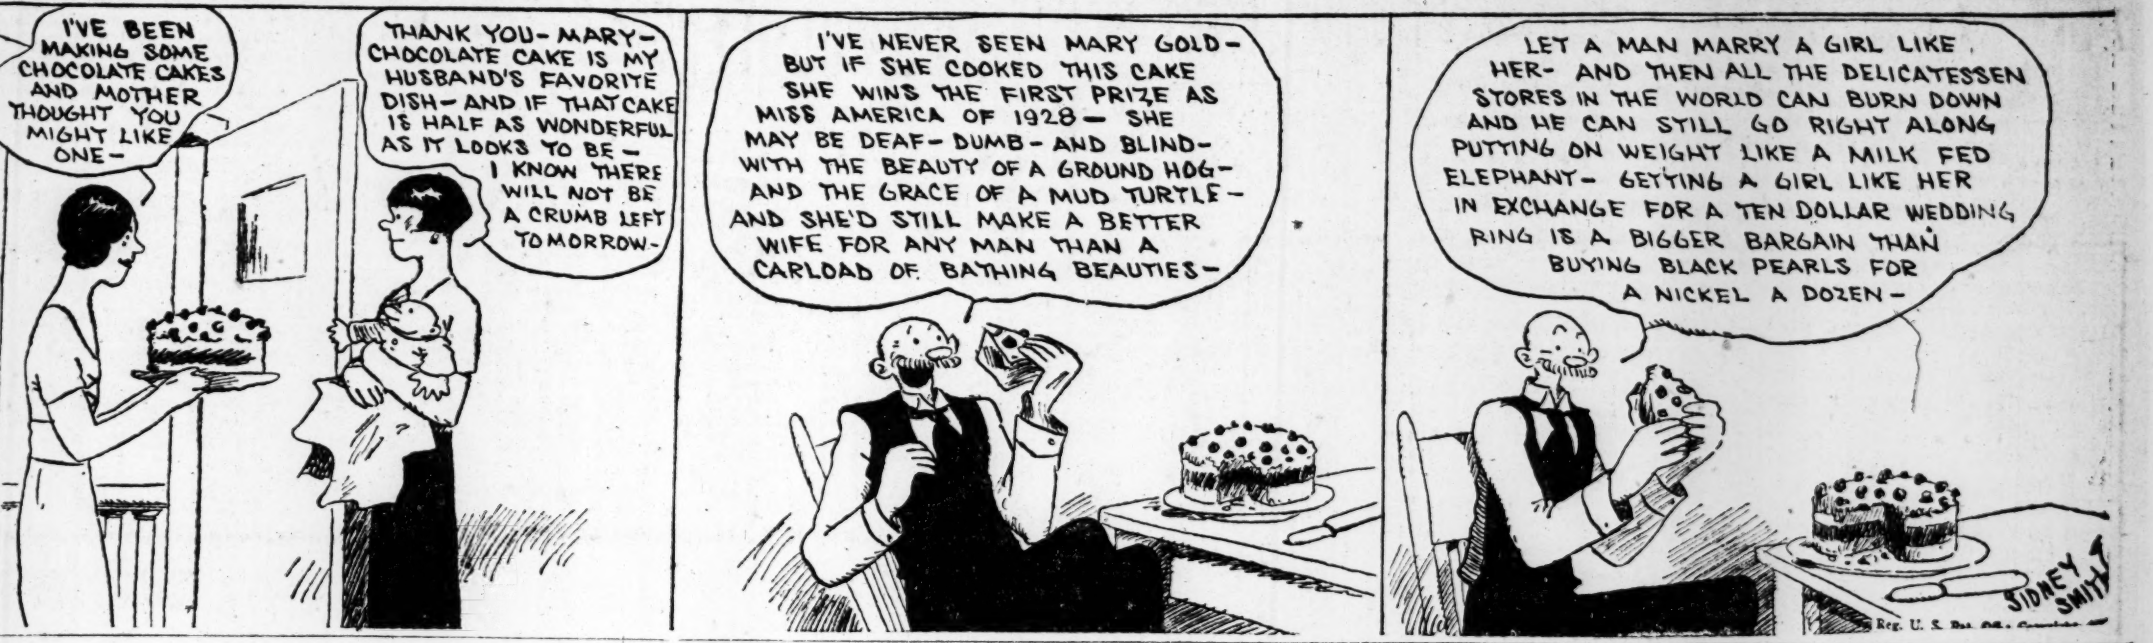

"And supposing—?"

"Call it trips. I've only got three cigarettes left; forget to fill my case. Shall put on a mac, and stroll up to the village."

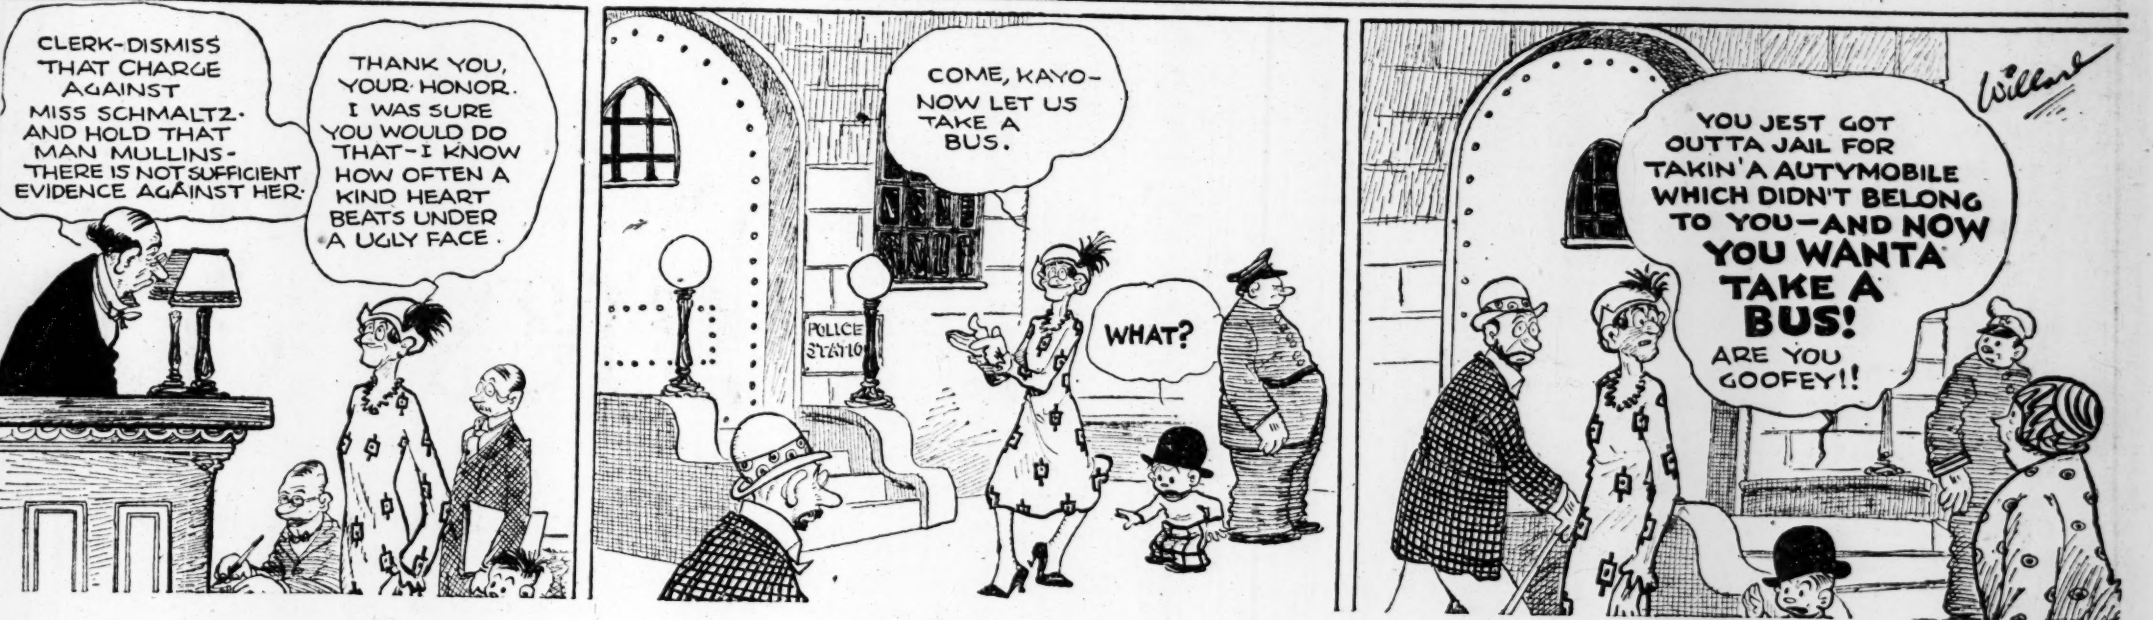

"Leave me one of the three. Thanks. Old thing. Now I'm going to be awful staid."

After slipping off her shoes, she curled up among the cushions, and Lance, getting into his mackintosh, scrambled out and up the bank.

of two June brides, Miss Grace Sowell, who will marry Mrs. Blair's son, Dan Blair, and her niece, Miss Ellen McKinney, who will marry Julian Still.

Parties interested in using clubhouse are requested to call Mrs. Chester Johnson, West 1985, for information. The Saturday night dances will continue throughout the summer. The president, Mrs. Chester Johnson, extends a cordial invitation to young ladies and gentlemen who attended the dances at the club during her former administration. For cards or further information please Mrs. Bushee, West 1390-V. A junior club for young ladies from 14 to 20 will be organized at once.

Mrs. C. F. Faires entertained Friday evening at Cascade terrace for Mrs. Chester Johnson, president of the club, and the recent nominating committee. Mrs. Luther Still, Mrs. W. C. Griffith, Mrs. C. F. Cole and Mrs. W. N. Ponder, also the ladies of Cascade Heights.

There was a very full attendance of the executive board Wednesday afternoon with first vice president, Mrs. L. M. Ahern, presiding, being the first board meeting under the new administration, and many plans for improvements and constructive work were discussed and the board pledged loyal support to the president in all her undertakings. Mrs. Arthur Robinson and her committee have begun beautifying the grounds by setting out hundreds of plants. The concrete walk and steps down to Cascade avenue, started under Mrs. George Grant's administration, have been completed, and work is progressing rapidly on the retaining wall and sodding the grounds. A board meeting will be held each second and fourth Wednesday immediately preceding the regular business meetings of the club.

Tech High Seniors Are Entertained.

The senior class of the Tech High school were the recipients of a dance, given by the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening, May 28, at the Atlanta Woman's club.

The attractive hall room was further enhanced by streamers of purple and gold, with pennants and flags placed at appropriate places.

Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, the retiring president, assisted by Mrs. Leo Suderth, newly-elected president; Mrs. R. N. Fickert, Mrs. J. B. Brucwell, Mrs. David Wise, Mrs. V. H. Shearer, Mrs. C. L. Langley and W. O. Cheney received at the door. A number of solo dances, rendered by some of Atlanta's artists, contributed their part to the enjoyment. About 300 guests were present.

Young Matrons' Circle For Tallulah Holds Meeting

The Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah Falls school, owned by Georgia federation, was held on Friday afternoon at Pinebloom, the home of Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright, Sr., in Druid Hills. A number of distinguished guests were present, among them Mrs. S. V. Sanford, first vice president, and Mrs. R. K. Rambo, second vice president of the Georgia federation.

Mrs. Lawrence Willet, president of the circle, presided, and in making her report said that the outstanding feature of the year's work was the establishment of a perpetual scholarship in the name of the Young Matrons' circle, and the gifts of the following annual scholarships: Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright, Sr., for Dorothy Arkwright Giddings, Jr.; Mrs. Harry M. Atkinson, Mrs. Lewis H. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Jones, Jr., Mrs. A. P. Brantley, for James Ragan, Jr., and Archie Brantley Ragan, and the Vezey Rainwater perpetual scholarship, in the name of Mr. Rainwater's four sons.

The equipping of a dental clinic, to which Dr. Thomas Crenshaw, Jr., gives his time, amounted to $900, and is a valuable addition to the school. Mrs. George McCarthy, Jr., is chairman of the dental clinic.

It was suggested that a garden committee be formed to assist in securing shrubs, plants and bulbs for the school. A resolution was passed that a page in the minutes be set aside as a memorial to two valued members whose deaths occurred during the last year—Mrs. Marion Smith and Mrs. Eugene B. Black, Jr. Circle members were entertained at a garden tea, and were assisted by members of the Young Girls' circle, of which Miss Jane Davison is president.

Garden Hills Pool Opens Saturday.

The Garden Hills swimming pool will be formally opened Saturday morning to residents of the north side. The pool, rectangular in shape, has a capacity of approximately 245,000 gallons, and is located in a grove of trees, and is one of the most attractive filtered swimming pools in this section of the country. A walk-way and modern and up-to-date bathhouses are provided.

The pool will be opened to residents of the north side without the necessity of securing membership cards. It will, however, be conducted under very strict supervision, which feature will be in charge of a committee of Garden Hills property owners, consisting of Mrs. T. C. Cox, Mrs. J. S. Donaldson, Mrs. W. H. Schroeder and Mrs. Fred P. Jeter.

The Garden Hills Woman's club, headed by Mrs. George Brown, will have charge of the dance pavilion and tea room overlooking the pool, where refreshments will be served. An added feature of interest will be the opening of the pool by the Garden Hills Woman's club in the evening from 6 to 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Murphy Honors Mrs. Hitchcock At Dinner Party

Mrs. John E. Murphy was hostess Friday evening at a dinner party at her home on Peachtree road, the occasion honoring Mrs. James N. Hitchcock, of Steubenville, Ohio, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Williams. The handsomely appointed table was covered with an exquisite lace cloth and adorned in the center by a large plateau of summer flowers with garlands of pink rambler roses predominating. Silver candlesticks holding pink tapers added to the beauty of the table decorations.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barzan, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raine, Mr. and Mrs. William Spalding, James Alexander, Thomas Glenn and Mrs. Murphy. Following dinner the guests enjoyed a game of bridge.

Deatur Junior High Faculty Honored.

The executive board of the Junior High P. T. A. entertained the faculty of the Junior High at a luncheon Wednesday at the Deatur Woman's club, the class mothers acting as hostesses. Delightful music was furnished by the Junior High orchestra and Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Mark White, chairman of class mothers, made a gracious toastmistress in the basement of Mrs. P. H. Jeter.

A silver bowl was presented to Wheat Williams, principal of the Deatur Junior High, by Miss Sara Shuburn on behalf of the athletic association, and a beautiful picture from the P. T. A. was presented to Mr. Williams by Mrs. White.

Mrs. Madge Lee responded for the teachers to the toast given by Mrs. White.

Seventy members of the faculty and executive board were present.

The Dress Sale

Atlanta Will Always Remember

We predict that for months to come this sale will be used by Atlanta women as a standard of comparison! Certainly we hardly dare hope to offer again this summer such frocks marked so low! That they are utterly desirable is to understate the case. That they are irresistible at these sale prices is a fact we expect to prove! We are particularly proud of the wide size range, making it a sale of interest to every Atlanta woman.

The values of the frocks in this sale range from $12.50 to $24.75

This is a season when you don't have to be a trans-oceanic flyer to break into print! For fashion has adopted prints as her favorite medium for chic, and the smartly dressed woman wears them the day through! The printed crepes in this group have amusing designs—everything from tennis players to steamboats—but the chiffons are for the most part the flowered designs so well adapted to the filmy fabric. Sizes 14 to 48.

"What is so rare as a day in June" . . . if one is comfortably and smartly clad for the hot weather that the month of roses brings! If you have been planning to buy yards of wash silk and spend hours with the sewing machine, fashioning it into frocks suited to the season—here's interesting news! You can save both time and money by buying these, already smartly finished! Also included in this group are a number of prints and navy georgettes for general wear. Sizes 14 to 50.

If it's a trousseau you're planning, and you want a frock that's worthy of so auspicious an occasion, or if your summer plans call for a $15 or an $18 frock—here are smart ones that should be marked at least that high! The difference can go into accessories, or into another inexpensive Lewis' dress that catches your fancy! Printed crepes in clever designs, filmy georgettes and chiffons, and serviceable wash silks—the frock that you particularly need is here! Sizes 14 to 46.

These are frocks to enthuse even the most fastidious woman! Our buyer wired us from New York that he was sending $24.75 frocks, purchased at a price concession that would allow us to sell them for $14.90! They are just in . . . the filmiest of chiffons, fashioned with capes that will ruffle in the summer breeze; crepe romaines, striped and figured in the daintiest designs; heavy flat crepe, with lines that belong to the sports mode; the loveliest frocks from the best houses! On sale Saturday! Sizes 14 to 48.

Miss Fetscher Honors Miss Catherine Holiday.

Miss Evelyn Fetscher was hostess at a luncheon and shower Friday afternoon at her home on St. Charles avenue, honoring Miss Catherine Holiday, a bride-elect of Saturday. The handsomely appointed table was adorned with a crystal bowl of sweet peas, pink candles burned at either end. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white. Dainty bridal place cards marked each guest's place. Covers were laid for 15 close friends of the bride-elect. Mrs. George Fetscher assisted her daughter in entertaining. A surprise bag was given Miss Holiday, with many beautiful gifts.

Pi Mu Sorority Gives Musicale.

A musical affair of Friday afternoon was the musicale at which the Pi Mu sorority entertained a host of their friends at the studio of the president of the Atlanta chapter, Miss Dorothy J. Waldman, 739 Park drive, N. E. This musicale marked the close of the week of celebration of the anniversary of the founding of the Atlanta chapter.

A program of classical piano numbers was played by pupils of Miss Waldman, also members of the Pi Mu. The composers represented were: Beethoven, Haydn, Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Gollard and Chaminade. Assisting the hostess in receiving were Miss Margaret Selman, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Guthman, vice president; Miss Irma Guthman, pledge chairman; Miss Elizabeth Branch.

You be the Judge.

Your own experience tells more in a minute than a carload of claims do in a year. Try PURITAN MALT EXTRACT. You'll be surprised at the difference.

Made of real barley—all barley. Richest, strongest, best by every test because Puritan spells purity and quality that's mighty unusual. Use wherever sweetening is required in the household.

pull. He is one of the few who seems to relish playing heavy machinery. He wanted to prove his mastery of the storm. He is the only competitor I have ever seen who is out beyond any thought of discouragement, no matter what the odds against him. He isn't invincible. He can be beaten. But there is nothing that can make him quit."

Which is about the final word to be offered in the way of praise for any one in the competitive field.

Today's Golf Round-up.

The discussion has arisen again as to the hardest shot the average golfer is called upon to play. Here are a few to select from:

1. A brassie shot from a close life.
2. A long iron into a cross wind, blowing from left to right.
3. A short pitch over a trap, 50, 75 or 90 yards away.
4. A chip shot from smooth sand in a shallow bunker.
5. A long approach putt on a keen green.

Any one of these five varieties have started many a bleeding heart. No. 2 isn't far from being the hardest, for it happens to be an effort calling for greater skill than the average golfer possesses. No. 5 is about as tough a proposition for the star as any of the others. It is the one place you see more efforts fail in open championships. Getting an approach of 50, 60 or 75 feet reasonably close under championship strain calls for nerve control that few carry in their systems. The average golfer doesn't expect to play any too well with Nos. 1 and 2. But No. 3 and No. 4 are two of his greatest govt getters, as they look simple enough—until the head is suddenly lifted and the wreckage explodes right under his chin.

rain's Propus third. Carrying 14 pounds the chestnut son of Golden Brown-John Ann made all the pace and covered the second furlongs in 1:27.55. Mowlee was second and G. A. Cochran's Propus third. Polador took a long lead at the start and drew away in the stretch to lead the favorite, Mowlee, by two lengths. The race was worth $4,450 to the winner.

The feature of the afternoon's program at Churchill Downs, the Taylorsville purse, went to King Basil, with illegitimate second and Clog Dance third. The winner's time for the six furlongs was 1:12 2-5. Illegitimate made the pace to the half, but King Basil took command in the stretch and got the decision by a head.

The Riverdale purse, a mile race for three-year olds at Thornecliffe, was won by Royal Watch. Mollie Elizabeth finished second and Lower Five took third. The time was 1:40 4-5. The winner paid $20.70 on a $2 ticket.

The Day in Finance

Stocks Open Higher and Withstand Bear Attacks During Day—Firm Money Is Reflected by Tone of Stocks.

New York, June 1.—(Special)—Stocks opened slightly higher with trading quiet after the price of gold was reported at 135.00. The market started calling loans. Call money again opened at 6 per cent, with the stock market showing a decline. It was feared that the rate would again go to 6 1/2 per cent as it did Monday, causing heavy selling of stocks. Unsettledness over the call money rate was the result of further firmness in the money market. Most money loans were made at 5 1/8 per cent with some at 5 3/4, the highest level for some time since 1923. In the last hour call money again went to 6 1/2 per cent and the stock market again sold off.

Immediately after the call rate advanced to 6 1/2 per cent new ticks in Wall street and throughout the country printed an interview with W. C. Durant, returning from Europe, which was extremely optimistic. The result of this interview was a sensational recovery in the stock market in the late trading.

Money Is Firmer.
Firm money reflected the weekly increase of $13,000,000 in the borrowings of $30,000,000 in the borrowings of the member banks and the Federal Reserve banks, a weekly decrease of $11,000,000 in the government security holdings of the reserve banks, a further loss of $2,000,000 in the gold reserves of the system with the ratio of the system down to 68.9 against 70 a week ago and 70.8 a year ago, the lowest with the exception of the year-end settlement period since 1921.

Shares of mail order and merchandising stores were strong on the May sales statements of the two largest mail order houses. Montgomery Ward reported an increase for May of 14 per cent compared with a year ago with a gain of 2 1/2 per cent for the five months of the year. Sears-Roebuck reported a gain of 21 per cent for May and an increase of 9 1/2 per cent for the five months. Both made a new high record for May, partly because of an extra day in the month, partly because of belated improvement in general trade, partly because of more reasonable weather and partly because of new stores.

This side of the day's news on the general trade situation was offset by a further drop in scrap iron prices at Birmingham to the lowest figure in many years. In well informed financial circles the trend of scrap iron prices is closely watched as an indication of general trade conditions.

One interesting news development of the day came from Washington, the department of commerce reporting that our investments in Canada now amount to $2,000,000,000 against $1,417,000,000 before the war. British investments in Canada were placed at $2,000,000,000. Until very recently Great Britain investments in Canada headed the list. Investments of other countries in Canada are given as $228,000,000. Canada's investments here are given as $722,000,000 against $118,000,000 in Great Britain and $222,000,000 in other countries.

Melton Tests Market.
Washington, June 1.—(Special)—The treasury is about to go into the open market and purchase $100,000,000 of the $1,200,000,000 Liberty bonds maturing September 15. Recently the treasury purchased $50,000,000 of these bonds in the open market.

Melton Tests Market.
Buying blocks of these maturing bonds Secretary Mellon is said to test the investment market in making plans for taking care of the $400,000,000 of maturing Liberty bonds. The sale and the balance of the Liberty issue falling due in the middle of September. The selling of the money and investment market by Secretary Mellon helps him in his refunding operation, but there is no doubt but that the purchase of Liberty bonds in the open market by the treasury will

GOUGH BROADCASTING STATIONS ELIMINATED

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The federal radio commission announced today that it "finds it necessary to eliminate" from 25 to 30 broadcasting stations in the New York area to conform with new legislation by congress for an equal distribution of radio facilities in all parts of the country.

Chairman Ira E. Robinson and Commissioner O. H. Caldwell, will spend next Tuesday and Wednesday in New York studying the situation of first hand in an effort to give both broadcasters and the listening public the most equitable treatment. A recent order denied licenses to 162 stations throughout the country effective July 31. These stations will be given a hearing at the commission offices in Washington July 9 at which testimony seeking to justify their existence will be accepted. This course will probably be followed with the stations in the metropolitan area whose licenses will be revoked.

FIFTH TEMBLOR IN LAST 24 HOURS REPORTED SEVERE

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—An earthquake of marked severity lasting for three hours, the fifth in the last 24 hours, was recorded today on the Georgetown University seismograph. The shock commenced at 7:15 P.M. Dr. J. S. Tondor, director of the observatory, reported.

Dr. Tondor pointed out the scene of the temblor about 8,000 miles from Washington, probably in the Indian ocean, where the four previous shocks occurred. In his belief, he may have occurred.

Wheat Estimate Drops.
Rome, June 1.—(AP)—The International Institute of Agriculture announced today that the basis statistics just received the wheat harvest in India will be considerably less than was estimated previously. It is now estimated that it will be 8,000,000 metric tons as compared with 9,500,000 metric tons actually harvested in 1927 and the average of 9,500,000 metric tons during the previous five years.

Goodyear Wins Suit.
Cleveland, Ohio, June 1.—(AP)—Judge Will C. Stephenson today dismissed a suit brought against the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company by Kent E. Johnson, of Kenton, Ohio, which sought to invalidate a transfer of stock amounting to $16,000,000.
